ALTHOUGH the appointment of Mr. WADE as Minister at Pekin is little more than was to be expected in the natural course of events, BEFORE THE HON. CHIEF JUSTICE SMALE the appoundment is one of much importance at the present time. The selection will not meet the views of the large majority of the residents in China, who have long been hoping against hope that the post of Minister at Pekin would be conferred upon Sir Hatter PARKES, who is undoubtedly best fitted to occupy it with credit. Mr. WADE's previous career is not considered such as to willing to waive it. afford security, for sufficient firmness being shown at the present moment to put an en to the unsatisfactory state of things which has unfortunately arisen, and it must be confessed that the general, impression on this score is upon the whole justified by experience. The quantity of Cane grown in the Bienhon district, no doubt, would be more than amply enficient to supply the wants of the mill if it could be purchased on anything like fair terms, but serious obstacles interfered to prevent this being done. There obstructions were two fold : firstly, the the opposition of the owners of native mills locality referred to, and who naturally did not feel inclined to shut up their mills in order to allow the Cane to be sold to the factory; and, secondly, the undisgnised bostility of the untive chiefs and money lenders, who did all in their power to oppose and thwart the Company in their endeavour to purchase Cane from the the most strengous exertions on the part of the agents of the Company were unable, in the face of the difficulties alluded to, to secure more than a limited quantity of Cane at a com paratively high price. This result of the past season's operations is all the more disappointing as the highest expectations on the part of he Directors, as well as Shereholders, had bee raised by the statements put forth in the or ginal prospectus, which were presumed to founded on actual experience, and accepted by the public as reliable facts. Under these circumstances, the Directors have felt the necessity of the Company being placed in an independent position by the cultivation, to a certain extent, of its own Cane. and accordingly a tract of land has been secured at Lak-han, about 18 miles from the Factory. which is now being cleared and prepared for planting, and before another year, it is hoped that a very fair quantity will be in the ground This will doubtless have the effect of breaking down the very powerful opposition which new exists with the native growers, and that gra dually the Company will be enabled to buy Onne at remunerative rates. It may be stated that the French Authorities take a great interest in the Factory, and are willing to assist the Company in every way so far as lies in their power.

Things began to look very unlike Kinderspiel. But large sacrifices had been counted on; it was known and felt that a first landing on the British coast must be effected in the spirit of a forlorn hope and fresh bonts were burrying in or loading from the transports; when, hark a low rumbling sound, like intermitting thunder, is heard rom far off, across the sea. It is the sound of cannon on the extreme left of the Armada. It can be nothing but the English Channel Fleet. A fast steamer had in fact overtaken the Admiral, and, despatching two of his ships to watch the Americans, he had come back (like Desaix at Marengo) to give a decisive turn to the wavering fortunes of the day-the day big with the fate of England, of Europe, of the world. He brought with him seven first-class ironclads, with more than twice as many others of heavy metal, and it was a grand and fearful spectacle, the approach of those magnificent machines, instinct with life and motion, cleaving their way right onward through the thick of the hostile armament without stopping to engage the ships of war, and running down transport after transport; while almost every shot from their enormous guns sent a ship to the bottom, or left a beatload of gallant men struggling for life in the waves. If such a fate is appalling o think of or contemplate at a safe distance. what must it have been to those who saw and felt that their own turn was coming-who watched with fixed and fascinated gaze the rush of the iron monster that was about to pass crashing over them ?

But what did such skill avail here, on an untried element, where soldiers and generals were equally helpless, where strategy was useless and bravery thrown away? All liope of carrying out any pre-organized plan was at an end. Souve our peut became the word among the bired or pressed musters of transports, who, such of them as escaped being run down, made off without waiting to take in their original freights. ## EXTRAORDINARY SUICIDE.

(Richmond [Mo.] Republic, May 27th.) On Sunday last, about twelve o'clock, Mr. Henry Gentry, a man about seventy years of age, committed suicide on the farm of Richard Elliot, about a mile northwest from Sandwich a small station on the St. Louis and St. Joseph Railroad, in this county. It appears that the old man had lived an unhappy life for some years past, owing to domestic troubles of a serious nature, and for a short time previous to his death his anguish was so great that his roason was partially dethroned, and during this period he several times expressed a determina-tion to end his troubles with life.

the woods near his bouse, stripped from the tree a long, tough piece of hickory bark, and after carefully examining it he laid it under a stone, distant some twenty yards from the house. It was noticed by members of his family that every day he would go to the stone, and after inspecting the bark, pour water over it his object evidently being to prevent its becoming dry and brittle. Fears were entertained that be would attempt self-destruction by this singular mode, but the vigilance of his family, it was thought, would prevent its accomplish-

His wife ran to him, and catching him round the body attempted to hold him up, while she called to one of her daughters to run and bring her a knife with which to cut the bark, but the poor girl being so hewildered by the horrifying spectacle, failed either to bear or comprehend, and starting in a directly opposite direction, ran with all ber might away from the house. Mr. Gentry being a large man, his wife was unable to support his weight, and in a short time strangulation rendered life extinct.

The family at once alarmed the neighbours, and, after a Coroner's inquest was held, the body was prepared for burial. On Monday the remains were consigned to a grave in Orooked River Cemetery, with appropriate ceremonies.

POR scope and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are Capt. J. Robertson, will have immediate des here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exer-cises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti progunciations are given, the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typegraphy displays the success of an attempt to THE Spanish Barque make the Chinese and Huglish type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast oconomy of space, achieving a clearness not will have quick despatch for the above port providualy attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have beretafore characterized Chinese publications. The soppe of the work is so great, and its utilitarian purposes so complete, that a re-forence to its pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chi. will have quick despated nese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Enropeans residing China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully, with which very few in Mr. J. R. Black, Japan Gasette Office, Yoko-deed of them are perfectly acquainted. To parties resident in England and interested in China it cannot but be invaluable occasionally.
